

▶▶▶ People on the move

Deloitte

Chris Lu has been elected chief executive officer of Deloitte China, succeeding Peter Bowie, who is now senior partner in China. Lu has over 27 years of international and Greater China experience. He has worked in Deloitte offices in the U.S. and Taiwan before he transferred to China in 1994.

Denken Meng has been appointed Hong Kong consulting partner. He is experienced in process modelling, systems analysis, and application development for restructuring Chinese state-owned enterprises.

Joseph Lo has been elected chairman of Deloitte China, succeeding Kenneth McKelvie, whose term ended in May. Lo joined Deloitte in 1980 and was made partner in 1988. Lo was the leader of the reorganization and forensic practices and co-leader of the financial advisory practice.

Karon Wan has been appointed consulting partner in Hong Kong, handling technology and processes-related consulting services in enterprise resources planning and business process re-engineering. He leads the Hong Kong and southern China consulting technology practice.

Chris Lam has been appointed audit partner in Hong Kong. She is experienced in providing statutory and special audits for listed companies, as well as pre-IPO audits preparing companies for listing in Hong Kong and Singapore.

Guy Norman has been appointed forensic and dispute services partner in Hong Kong. His areas of expertise are fraud and corruption investigations, and dispute consulting. He has led major investigations in financial statement manipulation, fraud, suspected corruption and misappropriation of assets in Greater China.

Haemon Tsang has been appointed audit partner in Hong Kong, specializing in advisory and assurance services, IPOs in Hong Kong and the U.S., and mergers and acquisitions for companies in the media, energy and resources, manufacturing and property development sectors.

Stanley Lah has been appointed partner in M&A transaction services in Hong Kong. He has a wealth of experience in serving a wide array of strategic and private equity investors in due diligence, financial structuring and related transaction support services.

Sandra Tse has been appointed audit partner in Hong Kong, focusing on audits and special audits for listed companies in Hong Kong. Her clients cover a wide range of industries, including construction, manufacturing and telecommunications.

Adrian Tan has been appointed audit principal in Hong Kong. He has extensive experience auditing private and public companies, multinationals and their overseas subsidiaries in industries such as real estate and property development, construction, manufacturing, retail and financial services.

▶▶▶ People on the move

Deloitte

Chiu Mei-hing has been named audit principal in Hong Kong. She provides audit and assurance services to listed companies and is involved in initial public offerings. Her clients range from manufacturing, consumer products and aviation to property investment and development in Hong Kong and the mainland.

Judy Tong has been appointed audit principal in Hong Kong. She is experienced in audit and IPO services for insurance and securities enterprises and is involved in training programmes for staff and clients on topics related to securities and insurance.

Polly Lee has been appointed audit principal in Hong Kong. She has extensive experience in audit, IPO and M&A with listed and multinational companies as well as state-owned enterprises engaged in real estate, telecommunications, manufacturing, and the leisure and hotel business.

Shirley Woo has been named audit principal in Hong Kong. She specializes in IPOs, assurance and advisory services for companies in manufacturing, property investment and consumer product distribution in Hong Kong and the mainland.

Teresa Sit has been appointed audit principal in Hong Kong, specializing in audit and assurance advisory services to listed companies in Hong Kong and the U.S. She is also involved in cross-border assurance engagements and new listings of shares in the U.S.

Akihiro Matsuyama has been appointed Hong Kong principal in enterprise risk services. He has solid experience in enterprise risk management, internal and financial audit, and consulting services to manufacturing and consumer businesses.

Charles Ellis has been appointed enterprise risk services principal in Hong Kong. He focuses on corporate governance advisory, risk management and assessment, internal audit, IPO internal control due diligence and Sarbanes-Oxley advisory.

Cedric Vandenabeele has been appointed Hong Kong principal in financial advisory services. He helps private equity clients with their M&A transaction requirements and complex cross-border transactions.

Oliver Farnworth has been appointed tax principal in Hong Kong, specializing in advisory services for real estate investment in Asia-Pacific. He has advised fund managers and investors on cross-border investment structures and issues related to real estate and other assets.

Ernst & Young

Byron Khoo has been appointed professional practice partner in Hong Kong. He has extensive experience in U.S. GAAP, U.S. SEC rules and regulations, and in technical matters, including financial instruments under U.S. GAAP and IFRS.

▶▶▶ People on the move

Ernst & Young

Connie Kwok has been appointed international tax services partner in Hong Kong. She specializes in providing tax advisory services to multinational clients for inbound and outbound investments involving the U.S., Greater China and Asia Pacific.

Patrick Cheung has been appointed transfer pricing practice leader in Hong Kong and south China. He has over 10 years of experience in international tax and transfer pricing, including advance pricing arrangements.

Joseph Quiazon has been appointed partner of fraud investigation and dispute services in Hong Kong. He has over 20 years of consulting and law enforcement experience, is a certified fraud examiner and a fellow of the Institute of Compliance Officers in Hong Kong.

Grant Thornton

Fanny Hsiang has been appointed assurance partner of the professional practice unit. With over 15 years of experience, she provides advisory services and facilitates the proper application of professional standards requirements.

Ken Chung has been appointed transaction tax partner in Hong Kong. He has over 12 years of experience in China tax in financial services and other industries. He has been involved in detailed transaction tax due diligence and related structuring advice in acquisition of investments.

KPMG

John B. Harrison has been named deputy chairman, KPMG International. He will continue to serve as chairman of Asia Pacific region and co-chairman of KPMG China and Hong Kong until March 2009, when his term for both positions expires, and will be succeeded by Carlson Tong. Harrison is a member of the Institute and a fellow of ICAEW.

Leo Chan has been appointed assurance and advisory business services partner in Hong Kong. He has more than 14 years of experience advising Hong Kong listed companies and multinational corporations.

Elie Lai has been appointed audit principal in China. She has extensive experience in assurance, transaction and advisory services to financial institutions. She is also familiar with the retail, corporate and investment banking sectors.

Yin Toa Lee has been appointed financial services partner in Hong Kong. He will be responsible for the financial services accounting advisory practice in the Far East area, including IFRS, U.S. GAAP, conversions and valuation.

Tommy Siu has been named audit principal in China. He has assisted a number of Chinese enterprises in raising funds from China, Hong Kong and Singapore. He is experienced in serving listed companies and multinationals in the mainland.

Email your announcements to cookie@eightcustommedia.com. The deadline for the December issue of A Plus is 15 November 2008.